LENDS TO NEEDY
BUT NEVER LOSES

J. A. Stewart, Contractor,
Has "Charity Fund" For
His Employees.

PLAN CREATES LOYALTY

Workers Always Pay Back
When Helped in Sickness or Bad Weather.

"The Charity Account" is the name of an unusual pay system used by Judge J. A. Stewart contractor and street paver of Columbia. By means of this, the men who have worked for him in the summer may draw loans in the winter when they are out of work and pay them back when they are able. No interest is charged on the money. These accounts run from $3 to $20 a man, and they have been as high as $65 or $70 in cases of deaths. They are used to buy food, pay rent or coal bills and are never drawn except in cases of absolute need.

The men may draw this money as they need it, and when work begins, about a dollar a week is taken from their wages until it is paid back. Judge Stewart says about twenty men were on the charity account last winter. He employs about eighty men in the summer and nearly all of them live here in the winter. He says he knows every man and his condition and does not need to investigate when one asks for aid.

Judge Stewart says he has been using this plan several years and has never lost a cent by it. "Every man is human," he said, "and I try to treat him as such. I can't let a man who helps me in the summer go hungry in winter without helping him."

This plan increases the loyalty of the men, Judge Stewart says, and they do better work. Most of his men have worked for him a long time. One negro has been with him fourteen years, another has driven the same team nine years and those at the quarries have been there at least three years. Judge Stewart also gives each man in his employ a Christmas present costing from $2 to $5. He also makes it a rule to continue anyone who gets hurt on the payroll until he gets well, and to pay his doctors bill.

"One day's work once cost $200," he said "when a man got hurt on the rock pile. However, having once been a wage earner myself, I have more sympathy with the man who works hard by the day."

Judge Stewart began work as a farm hand in Boone County about thirty years ago.

COSTUMES FOR THE "MIKADO"

Special Make-ups for the Play Being Provided.

The costumes for the performance "Mikado," will arrive tomorrow morning. They have been especially made for this show. The play is to be given next Monday night for the benefit of the Elks' charity fund. "All the amateurishness has been taken out of the characters," said Richard Kipling, director of the play. "It will be a finished production in every sense of the word." There will be a rehearsal tonight for the principals of the cast at 7 o'clock at the Elks' Club. A full dress rehearsal will be held at the Columbia Theatre tomorrow afternoon.

The principal male characters are: Charles Cox, George T. Sasse, Earl Confer, A. Melvin Hall and Gerry Manning. The chief lady characters are impersonated by Mrs. E. G. McAllister, Mrs. M. V. Powell, Miss Georgia Belle Stephens and Miss Mabel Schleef. W. W. Garth has an important part.

Miss Martha Patterson has been the accompanist on the piano for Mr. Kipling during the rehearsal of the play. Joseph Bowman has been a valuable assistant to Mr. Kipling in the settings for the stage.

Will Take Up Road Building.
The next meeting of the State Board of Agriculture will be held in Kansas City about June 1. T. C. Wilson, secretary of the board, said yesterday morning that the chief business at that meeting would deal with the road movement.
